

Submission period and publication schedule for Advanced Experimental Mechanics annually published by the JSEM

Your submitted manuscripts will be published according to the following publication schedules given below if they are successfully accepted: Solid lines on a calendar bar indicate a submission period for authors attending the ISEM Series (the deadline is January 10th), while dotted lines along the calendar bar denote another possible submission period for authors without attending the ISEM Series (You should make an early submission if you hope early publication). The first issue of AEM has already been published at the end of August, 2016. Now we call for the manuscript for the 3rd issue of AEM.
